SECTION A: COMPREHENSION

QUESTION 1: READING FOR MEANING AND UNDERSTANDING

Read TEXT A. Answer the questions in FULL SENTENCES unless otherwise specified.

TEXT A

Paragraph 1

Albert Einstein was one of the greatest minds in world history. Einstein is known as a brilliant physicist who contributed more to the scientific world than any other person. His ideas about relativity are the basis for how science now understands time, space, energy, and gravity.

Paragraph 2

Einstein was brilliant in his thinking and far in front of anyone living at his time. Einstein, like most brilliant minds, was also a very strange and different kind of person. He often liked to work away from people and family but he also spoke in public about issues that he believed in. He was a person who cared about other human beings but his work also led to one of the most destructive forces ever known to man, the atomic bomb.

Paragraph 3

Albert Einstein was born on March 14, 1879 in Germany. His parents were Pauline and Hermann Einstein. In his early years, was a very shy but curious child who did not seem to be good at anything. In primary school, Albert was such an under-achiever in all subjects other than Maths and Science that his parents suspected that he might be mentally handicapped. One teacher even told him that he would never amount to anything. As it turned out, Albert preferred to learn on his own and had taught himself advanced Mathematics and Science by the time he was a teenager.

Paragraph 4

He dropped out of high school and tried to get into the Swiss Polytechnic University in 1895. However, he was made to finish high school, which he did. He finished high school at the age of 17.

Paragraph 5

It was only in his adult life that he achieved greatness and fame. Einstein's work was interrupted by World War I. A lifelong pacifist, he opposed Germany's entry into war. He would write, "At such a time as this, one realizes what a sorry species of animal we are."

Paragraph 6

During World War 2, a Nazi organization published a magazine with Einstein's picture and the words "Not Yet Hanged" on the cover. There was even a price on his head. The threat was so great that Einstein split with his pacifist friends. He said that it was justified to defend yourself with weapons against Nazi aggression. To Einstein, peace was not an absolute concept but one that had to be re-examined depending on the size of the threat.

Paragraph 7

Up to his final days, this genius continued his search for laws that would explain more of the universe. To this day, his ideas and theories are still treated with respect. It is important for all young people to know about Einstein: he did not achieve while he was at school, and people thought he was stupid and useless, but he was a great man. All young people need to realise that they can achieve in their lives; they simply might not achieve greatness early. If they do not achieve at school, they will find what they are really interested in and become successful later in their lives.

WRITE IN FULL SENTENCES. Marks will not be awarded for fragments of one-word answers.

USE YOUR OWN WORDS. Marks will not be awarded for passages taken directly out the text.

TEXT F

Dr. Congo-man

by Inessa Rajah

- 1 I don't know the car guard's name. All I know is the bright smiling face, the strong hands that help my mother with her shopping bags and the kind manner in which he bends to greet Bobby. I do not know his name because I have never asked what it is. Bobby has, but the man did not understand. 1
2 He always accept the change my mother hands him with a sincere "Merci". 2
3 Once, my cousin, who speaks French, had a conversation with him. I asked her about it. He was a doctor in his country. His country is in turmoil, he was forced to flee his home, and he is a qualified doctor working as a car guard. Bobby started calling him Dr. Congo-man. 3
4 Turning on the television is depressing, watching streets lined with violence and rage. "Foreigners are stealing our jobs." a young man shouts. Refugees are shot in the streets. They escaped to our country to run from chaos and pain, but instead found themselves running in a circle, directly back to injustice. 4
5 I am suddenly aware of the stillness beside me. "Bobby?" I whirl my head from side to side. "Bobby?" I'm on the verge of screaming for help, when I see him sitting on the ledge of the car park, his smile so big it slides off the sides of his face. The kind, Congolese man is standing beside him. 5
6 I catch sight of the laceration on the man's arm. The wound looks like a burn. I look into his eyes and see the eyes of a man cheated by life, more times than fate should allow. 6
